

Prison Ministry

11-24-16

Thank you so much for the bible study and prayers for me I don't think anyone else has even prayed for me so thank you again, I hope and pray that everyone had a great Thanksgiving day and dinner back there

at Victory Church in Lakeland Fl. We had a great service here and was blessed with turkey Dressing and pumpkin pie some people were out as blessed I now next year will be better for me the Lord is blessing me every day and my faith is growing, I have enclosed a letter I wrote to God could you please have your church pray over it for me thank you and I can't wait to receive another bible study I now have 94 days till I'm back in Lakeland you are all in my prayers.

DEAR GOD

11-24-16

It was suggested to me to write a letter to you AND to explain why my relationship with you is so important to me. This is new to me AND I've never done anything like this before, so bear with me. Where do I start LORD? How do I explain in words your relationship to me? Some things are HARD to put into words, especially the indescribable emotions

I have when I'm in your presence.

I grew up living a sinful and degrading life far from you.

I sought only my pleasure and mistakenly took it as happiness.

I did not regard others around me. How they felt, how I hurt them or what troubles I put them through. All I cared for was myself. I look back and I still feel ashamed for the life I was living.

I remember the day you reached out to me. I was a mess, I was a drunk and drug addict who thought and cared for nothing more than getting high and living for my own pleasure, with no care for who got hurt in the process. I was destructive to everything you are, but yet you reached out to me, not because I was deserving but because you loved me.

Through you and your word, over past few months to be exact March 8th 2016 when the man from Victory Church came into the County Jail "Don't remember his name but he was a drug addict and works as a welder at public Ice Cream warehouse He brought me to the Lord and change my life I pray for him and his family every day I wish you would bring me his name"

I have humbled myself. No longer do I hurt others just so I can seek pleasure; no longer do I steal because I don't have. I now try to make it a habit to put others before myself. I find pleasure and true happiness in helping others and seeing others smile. You taught me love, kindness, humility and hope. Through these things, I find strength and happiness. Through these things I also find faith and rest. Faith that you can grant me the strength to overcome my old self and be made new through your ways. Rest from doing everything without you, rest from constantly seeking something to make me happy and whole. You are my Creator, the Father I never knew but slurs had. You are my protector my strength and my life. I'd no way and I say I'm perfect or even righteous, for I am still full of sin. It is an ongoing battle I wage every day you will grant me the strength it takes to win these battles. This is why your relationship is so important to me. Without you Lord, I cannot make it. I do not want to go one day without you or your love and grace in my life. I know with you I can overcome and recover from anything! Lord I could go on for days about your wonderful deeds and magnificent power, but I'm going to end this by saying that your relationship with me means more than the world to me, it is eternal and I plan to keep it that way and to strengthen it as much as possible. I am not perfect, but through you I am made happy and whole and I love our relationship.

Love,

Child of God
